Learning Life's Lessons for the Long Term

After the holiday of Shavuot, the climax of our story when we receive our guide for living a moral life -the Torah, the cycle of our holy days slows us down. The heat of the summer demands a different pace but we still have a choice. We can let the lessons learned on our journey save us and deliver us to a better place or we can forget them and make the same mistakes again. We can let the experiences change us and push us to rise above the challenges of daily living or we can resist and stay stuck in the wilderness with no hope of peace.

I can feel myself resisting. I remember the promises I made to myself when I first fell and I couldn't move. "I am going to exercise, eat better, and not be so busy." I was determined. Crises, large and small, get our attention. On the mountaintop, in that moment of revelation, things seem so clear. Then we get better, or the mourning period is over, or our lives go back to normal and that precious fleeting moment when transformation was possible is lost to the regular routines and comfort zones of our lives.

But the point of our holy days, our rituals, our practices and our learning is not just to inform it is to transform. It is to help us hold on to those hard learned lessons and let them change us for the better. Our practices are the fitness course for living that prepare us for the experiences in our lives that are beyond our control, the sickness, the disappointments, the losses, and the deaths that turn our hearts inside out and change the course of our lives.

Jewish tradition, teachings, rituals and holy days prepare us for these most challenging times that we will not just survive but grow from them.

Here are a few of the lessons I have learned on the journey:

- ★ There are no short cuts. The only way from the narrow place to the promised land is through the wilderness.
- ★ The importance of imagination. Imagination allows for something we have not considered before to open the window when a door closes.
- ★ The importance of developing one's concentration. Concentration helps us be in the moment and as mindful as possible.
- ★ There is always something to be grateful for. The mother of a 19 year old who recently died told me that when her daughter was little she took her to a house that was broken down and over grown. The mother was about to turn around until her daughter pointed out a beautiful white rose that was growing at the side of the house. "She taught us to see the white rose even then, and I am trying to find the white rose now, when I need it the most."
- ★ And in the words of Hava Polinsky, quoting both her father and Yitzhak Pearlman, for anything worthwhile, "practice slowly." Building one's strength, one's skill, one's wisdom, takes time and patience.

After Shavuot the summer holy days give us a time to mourn the destruction and loss in our lives with the fasts of the 17th of Tammuz and the 9th of Av. But then Elul comes to prepare us for a New Year when we dare to hope again for a better year and a better world. Last summer brought us Occupy and tent movements of people demanding an end to the

CRC Will Have a Rabbinic Intern this Summer

CRC is thrilled to welcome Rabbinic Intern, Deana Sussman this summer. Deana is a Rabbinical Student at HUC-JIR on the Los Angeles Campus, and will be entering her fourth year of rabbinical school in the fall. This past year, Deana opted to add an additional year of school to earn her Master's Degree in Jewish Education from the Rhea Hirsch School of Education at HUC-JIR. She has served in student pulpits at the China Lake Naval Air Weapons Station in Ridgecrest, California and at Congregation Beth Knesset Bamidbar in Lancaster, California. Deana has just completed an education internship at Temple Beth Sholom, in Santa Ana, California. Prior to HUC, Deana was a student at Indiana University. She graduated with a bachelor's degree in 2004, majoring in both Jewish Studies as well as Religious Studies, and minoring in Hebrew and Psychology.

Deana is a St. Louis native, and loved growing up in the St. Louis Jewish community. For many years, Deana worked at Camp Ramot Amooona, serving first as a counselor, then as a unit head, and finally as the assistant director of the camp. Last summer, Deana worked at Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St. Louis and completed her first unit of Clinical Pastoral Education.

Deana is thrilled to have the opportunity to spend the summer working at CRC, and becoming a part of this inspiring community!

can control and the injustice we can end.

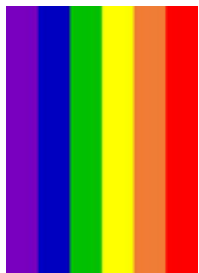

May the practice of our faith and our traditions prepare us to respond to the challenges we can control as we:

- ★ Support our efforts to protect and promote affordable health care access for all,
- ★ Respond to homelessness with our support for Room at the Inn,
- ★ Do what we can to end the trafficking and abuse of young girls in our region with the Covering House,
- ★ Continue our presence in the city that allows us to be on the front line in the fight to respond to homophobia and racism and the war against women that threaten the freedoms of us all,
- ★ March together in the Pride parade on June 24 to support the LGBT community remembering that until we are all free none of can be free,
- ★ Support our efforts to create a conscious community able to share in each others simchas and hold each other through our sorrows.

And for those challenges we cannot control may we embrace the lessons we have learned along the way from our lives and our rich tradition that when the New Year comes around this next time, we may truly be closer to the peace we seek within ourselves and for our planet.

With love,
Susan

Join us for St. Louis Pride Fest – Volunteers and Parade Marchers Needed

CRC will be joining with other St. Louis Jewish organizations and congregations to participate in St. Louis Pride Fest again this year. June is Pride Month for the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) community. During the last weekend in June, the community comes together for Pride Fest, a festival in Tower Grove Park with a parade on Sunday.

Join us to demonstrate Jewish support for diversity and inclusion!

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!

Here's How You Can Help:

1. Walk in the Parade

Join us in the St. Louis Pride Parade on Sunday, June 24. We'll be walking together under a giant rainbow tent to demonstrate that our tents and communities are open wide to all who wish to join us. Please meet at 11:00 am near the intersection of Grand and Utah (63116); the parade begins at noon. To sign up to walk with CRC, contact Jen Bersdale at jennifer@centralreform.org or 314

361-1564 ext. 116 – we'll send you more details as the event nears. The parade is about a mile long and is considered "family friendly" – this is a fun activity to do with your kids! We are also working on arranging for limited seating for people who would like to participate but cannot walk the parade route – please contact us for more information.

2. Staff the Jewish Communities Booth at Pride Fest!

We need people to staff the booth on Saturday and Sunday. We'll have information about Jewish organizations, including CRC, where members of the LGBT community can find a welcoming environment. We'll also have craft opportunities for festival-goers, including supplies to make bracelets that celebrate the diversity of our community. Volunteers are needed for the following shifts:

Saturday, June 23: 10:00-12:30, 12:30-3:00, 3:00-5:30, 5:30-8:00

Sunday, June 24: 11:00-12:00, 12:00-2:30, 2:30-5:00, 5:00-7:30.

If you can volunteer, please contact Jen Bersdale at jennifer@centralreform.org or 314-361-1564 ext. 116 with your availability.

Last year, our St. Louis Jewish Communities were 150+ marchers strong in the parade – this year will be bigger and better than ever! Join us to show the St. Louis community that CRC is PROUD of our commitment to diversity and inclusion!

Call for Confirmation Class Photos

Each year, we take a group photo of the Confirmation Class, but we never get to see them!

If you have a full-class Confirmation photo, please send to Jennifer Fishing, Assistant to the Rabbis. Electronic files are preferred to: jenf@centralreform.org.

LGBT Equality in Missouri, 2012: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly

Guest Speaker: Andrew Shaughnessy, PROMO

As members of an inclusive holy community at CRC, it's often easy to forget that members of the lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) community in Missouri still struggle with a lack of basic rights and protections. In most of the state, it is still legal to fire someone just because he or she is gay. Youth are regularly bullied in school because of their actual or perceived sexual orientation or gender identity, and too few receive the support they need from adults at school to combat the bullying.

The past year has seen exciting gains in the number of St. Louis County municipalities protecting the LGBT community from discrimination, with more progress expected on the horizon. At the same time, the Missouri legislature considered a bill in 2012 that would have put LGBT youth at even greater risk of bullying and isolation in school. The bill didn't pass, but sponsors are already promising to file it again next year.

At Social Responsibility Shabbat, Andrew Shaughnessy of PROMO will speak to us about both the good news and the frightening news in the movement for equality for members of the LGBT community, and will tell us how we can help. Please join us for an informative and inspiring program.

Notes from Essie

Director of Religious School

"Contemporary society says, 'The important thing is to feel good about what you're doing.' Judaism says, 'The important thing is to do good, regardless of what you feel.'

But what if your heart isn't in it? What if you don't really feel like doing one of them?

Judaism says: Do it anyway. . . It's wonderful if you never feel the temptation to say bad things about other people, but it is considerably more wonderful to refrain from saying them even when you are tempted."

A quick and huge THANK YOU to all our partners in making CRC's Religious School a wonderful and growing learning community! Without the help of all the people willing to DO for our community, we would not be able to feel this good about the closing of our school year. CRC's Religious School depends on the consistent support, help, work and vision of a wonderful team of educators, parents, administrators and congregants.

Parents and Guardians, please remember to register your children for Religious School as soon as possible. You will be receiving forms the 2nd week in June. Contact Essie Mitchell if you do not receive a registration form, soon. You can call Essie at (314) 361-1564 ext. 118 or e-mail at Essie@centralreform.org.

Have a great summer. Practice regular acts of kindness. Don't forget to see the little miracles around you every day! Live Jewishly, with purpose, on purpose!!

B'Shalom and with peace,

Essie Mitchell

Huge Crowd Turns Out for Quilt Blitz for The Covering House

More than 175 community members turned out on Saturday, May 19 for a "Quilt Blitz for The Covering House." CRC members planned the Quilt Blitz in partnership with individuals from First Unitarian Church, The Journey Church, Kirkwood Baptist Church, and Emerson Unitarian Universalist Chapel.

The event was attended by a broad range of faith and secular groups across St. Louis to create handmade quilts as a gift for girls in need.

Participants worked in teams of 4-15 individuals on log cabin quilt tops, which volunteers will turn into finished quilts for girls at The Covering House. Each girl who comes to the house will get to select her own quilt, which she will take with her when she leaves the program as a reminder of the support she has from the St. Louis community.

A broad range of faith and community groups made up the 27 teams of quilters at the event. Teams came from CRC, First Unitarian Church of St. Louis, the Dominican Sisters, the Islamic Foundation of St. Louis, Kirkwood Baptist Church, Harmony United Methodist Church, St. Alphonsus Rock Church, The Journey Church, the Thimble and Thread Quilt Guild, and many other formal and informal groups. In addition, dozens of volunteers from CRC worked throughout the day to make the event a success.

The Covering House will open the first shelter in St. Louis for girls under the age of 18 who have been trafficked or sexually exploited. The FBI has said that St. Louis is a hub for this activity, and there are currently no resources for girls who are rescued. At the event, Dedee Lhamon, Founder and Executive Director of The Covering House, shared that earlier this year, there were five teens rescued within a five-week period in the St. Louis area.

In addition to the quilts, the event featured a raffle to raise money for The Covering House, door prizes for participants, and a spread of food donated by quilters and volunteers.

The Quilt Blitz was held at the union hall of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which donated the use of their hall to the event. Union members stayed after their Friday night meeting to set up for the event, many working until after midnight to prepare for the multitude of sewing machines, ironing boards, and fabric cutting stations required to put together more than 25 quilts.

CRC's Tikkun Olam Steering Committee decided earlier this year to partner with The Covering House to help them open this important resource for girls in our community. Stay tuned for our next opportunity to help. If you are interested in helping to plan our next step, please contact Jen Bersdale at jennifer@centralreform.org or 361-1564 ext. 116.
